

WOMEN OF DISTRICT SEEK D. A. R. PLACES

Four Washington Leaders Are Candidates on the Ticket
With Mrs. Story.

Four District women are on the ticket with Mrs. William Cummings Story in the contest for the offices of the D. A. R., to be settled at the Continental Congress next week. Mrs. Mary S. Lockwood will run for chaplain general, Mrs. E. L. Brown for registrar general, Mrs. George M. Sternberg for librarian general, and Miss Janet Richards for historian general.

Mrs. Julius C. Burrows, of Michigan, who is well known in Washington, is the Story candidate for corresponding secretary general, and Mrs. William A. Smoot, of Virginia, for vice president general.

Other candidates on the ticket are Mrs. William C. Boyle, of Ohio, for recording secretary general; Mrs. Edgar A. Ross, of Georgia, for assistant historian general, and Mrs. Charles E. Kregel for treasurer general.

The District women on the ticket will help Mrs. Story outside of Washington, rather than in getting votes in the District. It is believed, for Mrs. Story has always had a majority of votes from here. Prominent candidates on her ticket like Miss Janet Richards and Mrs. Lockwood will be a factor of strength, it is believed, with respect to votes from other parts of the country.

The tickets of the other candidates have not been announced, and rumors of withdrawals are now rife. The story has gone out and met with indignant denial that Mrs. John Miller Horton will withdraw in favor of Mrs. Charles B. Bryan. Similarly, there were rumors early today that Mrs. Story would withdraw in favor of Mrs. Story, and again that she would withdraw in favor of Mrs. Horton.

Inasmuch as all three candidates announced themselves in the race to stay, however, the rumors finally quieted down.

Mrs. Horton expressed much indignation that her withdrawal was announced today by morning newspapers.

"I am in the race to stay," she said, "and the announcement that I am withdrawing, had a malicious foundation. It originated with enemies of the administration."

PARENTS IGNORANT OF GIRL'S FUNERAL

Favorite Brother Comes From Boston to Attend Burial of Gertrude Murphy.

Unattended by the father and mother, who are still seriously ill and do not even know of their daughter's death, the funeral of Miss Gertrude Murphy, who lost her life in saving her mother, was held early today at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, where mass was said.

The only relatives of the girl present were her three sisters and her favorite brother, Tim Murphy, who came from Boston to attend the funeral. Mr. Murphy was playing in the "Top of the World" in Boston, acting the part of the jolly priest. On Friday afternoon, just as he was about to go on the stage, he was informed that his sister had died. Despite his grief he forced himself to act the part through, realizing that the show could not be given that afternoon without him. He was as humorous as usual and the audience applauded his jokes repeatedly, little knowing the grief that he was suppressing and the effort he was making to appear happy.

Roe forgot all about the incident until the receipt of the check. He did not even know the name of the man he aided.

The accident from which Miss Murphy died, occurred at the home of her parents, 915 S street northwest, last Friday afternoon when Miss Murphy, in a match in a room filled with gas and in which her mother was lying unconscious, the fire which resulted, cost Miss Murphy her life. Her father was burned as they rescued Mrs. Murphy from the flames.

At the Freedman's Hospital, where Mrs. Murphy is being cared for, it was reported that her condition was satisfactory and that she is recovering. Mr. Murphy, who is in the Emergency Hospital, is also doing well.

Teamster Gets $500 For Aid Given "Drunk"

RACINE, Wis., April 7.—Frank Roe, a teamster, has received a check for $500, a bequest which a New Yorker, Frank White, who received assistance in Racine two years ago, left him. White had met Roe, who told him he "had been too good a fellow." Roe assisted him to the station, bought a ticket for the stranger, and helped him on the train.

ONE CENT POSTAGE FREELY PREDICTED

Probe of Service by Commission
Looked on as Initial Step Toward Lower Rate.

Action by Postmaster General Burleson involving the appointment of a commission to investigate the "actual financial, physical, and working conditions of the postal service," is regarded by business men all over the country as the initial step toward one-cent letter postage, according to the National One-Cent Letter Post Association, of Cleveland.

This association is making a consistent fight for one-cent letter mail. In a statement to the public the association says:

"Now that the postal post is in actual operation and bids fair to be extended during the next few years, it is claimed by business men generally that their demand for a one-cent letter rate should be heeded. They point to the fact that the Postoffice Department is now realizing an enormous surplus, something like $55,000,000 per year, from the letter mail. Although letter mail constitutes but 14 per cent of the revenue of the department, it pays about 75 per cent of the revenue received from all classes, and it is evident that this is a decided discrimination against users of first-class or letter mail."

The commission is composed of Daniel C. Roper, Joseph Stewart, A. M. Dockery, and James I. Blacklee, First, Second, Third, and Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, respectively, and Merrit O. Chance, chief clerk of the department.
